

Dear Redwood Trees between the Uraidla Bakery and Pub,

Thank you for your glorious shade. The other day it was in the mid-30's yet under your incredible branches it was comfortable to sit and enjoy a coffee.

How did you come to be planted here? I've seen other redwoods, but only in California, where they are tall, magnificent giants. How did the group of you come to be on the Main Street in Uraidla? How long have you been here? Who else has enjoyed your shade and beauty?

Thank you for towering over our cool drinks, much needed coffees, rows of parked bikes, kids' hide and seek games and those passing along the Main Street.

You're an unusual and beautiful part of our township.

With appreciation
